Correction to: Int Environ Agreements <https://doi.org/10.1007/s10784-024-09631-3>

In this article, in Section 2, paragraph 3, in the sentence beginning 'Some countries such as Denmark have also...', the word 'Equinor' should have read 'Ørsted'. The incorrect and corrected version has been given below:

Incorrect version:

Some countries such as Denmark have also moved rapidly from being major investors in oil and gas to leaders in renewables, captured most clearly in the renaming of DONG (Danish Oil and Natural Gas) as Equinor, while former major coal producers such as the UK, Spain and Germany have introduced phase out policies.

Corrected version:

Some countries such as Denmark have also moved rapidly from being major investors in oil and gas to leaders in renewables, captured most clearly in the renaming of DONG (Danish Oil and Natural Gas) as Ørsted, while former major coal producers such as the UK, Spain and Germany have introduced phase out policies.

The original article has been corrected.
