Dear Colleagues, readers and friends:

This double issue brings closure to Volume 95. We have tried to publish as many papers per issue as possible, to help you. We now have a clear picture of what needs to be done to reduce the acceptance-actual publication time gap. We will use the last Volume of 2019, Volume 96, to ‘empty’ the queue of accepted papers, so that we start ‘clean’ in 2020. The transition is not easy. It requires careful consideration, continuous monitoring of the review cycle, dynamic scheduling per issue, etc. Most important of all, it requires just timing so that the sequence of appearing papers align to the order they have been accepted. We have our hands full, but we will report to you in an editorial about the specific steps that will be followed and implemented.

As we enter the last quarter of 2019, we urge you to submit your research papers to JINT. We will do our best to provide a timely decision within 12 weeks.

Enjoy the issue.
