Errors were observed in the calculated values of ϵ' , ϵ'' , M' and M'' which are plotted along Y-axis (multiplication factors) of the graphs shown in Figs. 7a, 8a and b, respectively, of the published paper during manual calculations made by us recently. The same has been corrected, and the corrected graphs are given here. There is no change in any other part of the original manuscript or its scientific content. The text remains unchanged.
