Recently Dr. Jacob Bear expressed his wish to step down as editor-in-chief for Transport in Porous Media. We would like to take this opportunity to thank him for his invaluable commitment and initiatives and relentless efforts as founding editor in successfully establishing the journal. We are pleased that he will continue as associate editor of the journal.

As of this issue, volume 91:1 (2012), we are pleased to welcome Dr. Martin Blunt as new editor-in-chief and we wish him every success in his new position.
