Unfortunately, in the above-mentioned article, the two following corrections should be included.

1. In the section “Materials and methods”, the end of the subsection “Fungal strain and culture conditions” should read as:
The fungal strain used in this work was isolated in South Chile and provided to us by the Laboratory of Environmental Biotechnology of Universidad de la Frontera (Temuco, Chile), classified as Anthracophyllum discolor.

2. The Acknowledgement section should include the following text:
The authors also thank the Laboratory of Environmental Biotechnology of Universidad de la Frontera (Chile) for providing the fungal strain used in this work.
