In the above referenced publication [1], there is a mistake in the Supporting Information. The corrected caption of Figure S2 is:

Figure S2 Isothermal titration calorimetry (ITC) data for the titration of 0.125 mM β -CD with 2.5 mM water-soluble viologen derivative (1-dodecyl-1'-methyl-4,4'-bipyridinium bromide iodide, DMV) in an aqueous solution at 25 °C. Based on the ITC result, 4:1 binding stoichiometry of complex C was confirmed. DMV is used as a model guest instead of didodecyl-4,4'-bipyridinium dibromide because the latter cannot be dissolved in water directly. DMV is prepared according to the literature [1].
