We regret that our article “Ozonated graphene oxides as high efficient sorbents for Sr(II) and U(VI) removal from aqueous solutions ” (Sci China Chem, 2016, 59: 869–877) contained errors. The corrections in an erratum do not change or affect the result or conclusion of the paper.

The Figure 2(a, b) in the original paper is in error, which results in the TEM and SEM images of GO have a big difference with the description.

The corrected figure and figure caption are given below.

The online version of the original article can be found at <https://doi.org/10.1007/s11426-016-5594-z>
