Please note that in the first paragraph on p. 575 on this article, p values are reported incorrectly. The following is the correct text for this paragraph:

Direct significant paths were found from experience of sexual orientation-related stigma to internalization of sexual orientation-related stigma ($\beta=0.31$, $p<.001$), having been kicked out of one's home ($\beta=1.59$, O.R.=4.90, $p<.001$), experiencing homelessness during the past year ($\beta=0.65$, O.R.=1.91, $p<.01$), and major depressive symptoms during the past week ($\beta=1.21$, O.R.=3.36, $p<.001$). Both internalization of sexual orientation-related stigma and experiencing homelessness during the past 12 months partially mediated the direct effect of experience of sexual orientation-related stigma on major depressive symptoms. Having been kicked out of one's home had a direct significant effect on experiencing homelessness during the past 12 months ($\beta=1.59$, O.R.=4.90, $p<.001$) and daily marijuana use ($\beta=1.59$, O.R.=4.90, $p<.001$).
