Welcome to the November 2021 issue of TechTrends! This issue, the last issue in the 2021 volume year, is a special issue on Blended & Distance Learning for P-12 Contexts, guest edited by Kallianne L. Neumann, Cecil R. Short, Jacob A. Hall, and Frances Alvarado-Albertorio. I really appreciate the months of work that this team did taking this issue from concept to completion. You can read more about the end result of their work in their Guest Editors' Notes. In addition to the specially themed content, the issue contains entries in the Conference Planning, Graduate Member Musings, and Book Reviews columns.
