CORRECTION

An error occurred in the manuscript titled "Avoidable errors in health policy analysis" (J Gen Intern Med. 1998;13:762-7.) For Figure 1, Strategy II, the authors inadvertently reported the fatalities expected if the exposure to the two strains of the virus is independent across people. However, the authors meant to show the fatalities if the two people cannot be exposed to different strains and the choice of vaccine is made independently across people. In this case, the outcomes for the two individuals are not independent. The correct figures for strategy II are shown below:
