THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA DEPARTMENT OF MATERIALS ENGINEERING EXTRACTIVE METALLURGY CHAIR – ASSISTANT PROFESSOR POSITION

The Department of Materials Engineering at the University of British Columbia seeks an outstanding individual for a grant tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in the field of Extractive Metallurgy with an emphasis on high temperature processing. The starting date of the position will be May 1, 2015, or as soon as possible thereafter.

The Extractive Metallurgy Chair has been funded by 4 Canadian and international companies and is strongly supported by the Faculty of Applied Science at UBC. The successful candidate for this competition will be expected to complement UBC's existing strength in extractive metallurgy and will develop an internationally recognized, externally funded research program in the field of high temperature processing. The candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate level courses and to supervise graduate students at the Masters and Ph.D. level. In addition, as part of the Chair program, the candidate will be expected to teach short courses at sponsor sites, develop industrial research proposals and programs and generally support the activities of the Chair.

The candidate will hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in Metallurgical or Materials Engineering or a closely related field and will be expected to register as a Professional Engineer in British Columbia.

Further information on the department is available at www.MTRL.ubc.ca, and information on the employment environment in the Faculty of Applied Science is available at www.apsc.ubc.ca/careers.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement (1-2 pages) of technical and teaching interests and accomplishments, and names and addresses (e-mail included) of four referees. Applications must be submitted online at <http://www.hr.ubc.ca/careers-postings/faculty.php>.

The initial closing date for applications is February 28, 2015 but applications will be accepted until a suitable candidate is found. All Canadian, permanent residents and international candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity. All qualified persons are encouraged to apply. UBC is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.
