

Thank you, Wolfgang

Ralf Ewert¹ · Sascha Kraus²

Published online: 21 December 2022
© Springer-Verlag GmbH Germany, part of Springer Nature 2022

Wolfgang Kürsten, Professor and Chair of Finance, Banking and Risk Management at the University of Jena, Germany, our friend, colleague, and co-editor, has decided to end his tenure at the helm of the Review of Managerial Science (RMS) at the end of 2022 due to his upcoming retirement.

Wolfgang is one of the founding editors of RMS (together with Ralf Ewert). Since the journal's inception in 2007, he has tirelessly promoted the journal, designed its structure, and done invaluable work in assuring the quality of the contributions that have appeared in the published issues. Today, RMS has evolved into the top class of scholarly journals in the field of business management, and this is due in no small part to Wolfgang's efforts.

Wolfgang, under your co-leadership, the journal has steadily developed in only one direction: Upwards. You leave our journal at the height of its success, with more submissions and better metrics than ever before. And it will continue to be our journal, with you as “Founding Editor” on the masthead.

On behalf of the entire RMS team, we therefore say “Thank you, Wolfgang” for your hard work, tireless dedication and exceptional professional expertise, and wish you all the best for the next stage of your life, especially good health and strength for your travels and adventures.

Ralf Ewert and Sascha Kraus
Editors-in-Chief of RMS.

Publisher's Note Springer Nature remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

✉ Sascha Kraus
sascha.kraus@zfke.de

¹ Karl-Franzens-University, Graz, Austria

² Free University of Bozen-Bolzano, Bolzano, Italy