The original version of this article unfortunately contained some mistakes.

This is concerning with our paper titled “MiR-126 Regulates the ERK Pathway via Targeting KRAS to Inhibit the Glioma Cell Proliferation and Invasion” published in Molecular Neurobiology before. <https://doi.org/10.1007/s12035-015-9654-8>.

Recently, we found there was technical error in the images of transwell assay in Fig. 5c in this paper.

After full consideration, we decided to make an erratum on the figure based on the rigorous attitude of scholarship. We promise the errata does not change any of the conclusions drawn in the study, and apologize to the editorial board, reviewers and the readership for the inconvenience caused.
