The original publication was corrected.

Fig. 5 Normal probability distribution of load occurrence in the peak window. Top right shows the image with wrong label and bottom image shows the correct label
