Correction to:

The Patient - Patient-Centered Outcomes Research
<https://doi.org/10.1007/s40271-021-00495-2>

In the original version of this article, unfortunately the first sentence in the 3rd paragraph of Section 1 and first sentence in the 4th paragraph of Section 2.3.1 Phase 1 have been published incorrectly.

Section 1, Introduction, 3rd paragraph, 1st sentence previously read as:

Our ongoing research at the XXXX Center at the University of XXXX seeks to elicit elements of value important to patients.

It should read as:

Our ongoing research at the Patient-Driven Values in Healthcare Evaluation (PAVE) Center at the University of Maryland, USA seeks to elicit elements of value important to patients.

Section 2.3.1 Phase 1: Value Elicitation, 4th paragraph, 1st sentence previously read as:

Responses from the guided activities were summarized and then presented to a patient advocate in a leadership position with the COPD Foundation (study author xxx), who is a patient community partner affiliated with our center.

It should read as:

Responses from the guided activities were summarized and then presented to a patient advocate in a leadership position with the COPD Foundation (study author JLS), who is a patient community partner affiliated with our center.
