Welcome to the April Issue of Medical Science Educator! There are over 30 manuscripts that I hope you enjoy and find some useful things to incorporate into your own teaching. Please continue to send your high quality and stimulating articles to Medical Science Educator.

Our journal continues to receive significant numbers of submissions per month which requires more reviewers for quality and rapid turnaround. All reviewers for Medical Science Educator are members of IAMSE, but currently only about 10% of our membership serve as reviewers. With this Letter, I am inviting you to become a reviewer for the journal. We hold regular Basic Reviewer Workshops virtually to help you grow and learn the skills to become a successful reviewer. If you would like to join our team by becoming a reviewer for our journal, please let us know by email at Journal@iamse.org as we greatly appreciate your help!

I hope you enjoy this issue and that you will continue to support Medical Science Educator as a reader, reviewer, and as an author for your own scholarly work. Please feel free to reach out to me with any questions.

Be courageous,

David M. Harris, PhD

Editor-in-Chief
