Fig. 1 Distribution of the a actual and b potential consequence of the incidents as described in the investigation reports
