

---

Erratum

---

In the paper "Solid-Phase Microextraction and Cuticular Hydrocarbon Differences Related to Reproductive Activity in Queenless Ant Dinoponera quadriceps" (Volume 24, No. 3) by Thibaud Monnin, Christian Malosse, and Christian Peeters, the explanation of the symbols in the captions for figures 4 and 5 appearing on pages 484 and 486, should have read: filled circle, mated alphas (N = 7); open circle, virgin alphas (N = 19); filled triangle, sterile workers less than one month-old (N = 9); and open triangle, older sterile workers (N = 22).