We appreciate this yearly opportunity to thank our reviewers. We do so with great gusto because the most challenging task we have as journal editors is finding colleagues willing to review submissions and to complete the reviews.

Reviewers give us advice and help the authors of promising submissions to make them better. We give special thanks to those who helped us with multiple reviews.

We received 388 submissions in calendar year 2017 from 55 countries and sent them to the 111 outside reviewers listed below. Our authors regularly express their gratitude for the constructive guidance. We thank all JPHP reviewers for the invaluable help:
