CHRONICLE

Evgeniya Aleksandrovna Terent'eva (1921–2011)

DOI: 10.1134/S1061934811090176

Evgeniya Aleksandrovna Terent'yeva, Doctor of Chemistry, Honored Member of the Scientific Council on Analytical Chemistry of the Russian Academy of Sciences, known expert in organic elemental microanalysis passed away on February 23, 2011. For a long time, she headed the Microanalysis Laboratory at the Nesmeyanov Institute of Organoelement Compounds of the Russian Academy of Sciences, was an organizer of several conferences on organic analysis, and worked in the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry. Evgeniya Aleksandrovna died only a few months short of her 90th birthday.