ASO VISUAL ABSTRACT

ASO Visual Abstract: Quality Standards for Surgery of Colorectal Peritoneal Metastasis After Cytoreductive Surgery and Hyperthermic Intraperitoneal Chemotherapy

Alfonso García Fadrique, MD, PhD¹, Rafeal Estevan Estevan, MD, PhD¹, and Luis Sabater Ortí, MD, PhD²

¹Valencian Institute of Oncology, General and Gastrointestinal Surgery, Valencia, Spain; ²Department of Surgery, Biomedical Research Institute INCLIVA, Hospital Clínico Universitario, University of Valencia, Valencia, Spain

The authors report a study to assess quality standards in cytoreductive surgery (CRS) and hyperthermic intraperitoneal chemotherapy (HIPEC) for colorectal peritoneal metastases to objectively classify surgical results as desirable (<https://doi.org/10.1245/s10434-021-10642-6>). The current data are of main relevance for future randomized studies as well as for benchmarking among centers.