

ASO Visual Abstract: Data-Driven Respectful Discourse in the Society of Surgical Oncology

Camille L. Stewart, MD¹ , Susanne G. Warner, MD², James De Andrade, MD³, Andrew Nguyen, MD², and Martin Heslin, MD⁴

¹Department of Surgery, Division of Surgical Oncology, University of Colorado School of Medicine, Anschutz Medical Campus, Aurora, CO; ²Department of Surgery, City of Hope National Medical Center, Duarte, CA; ³Department of Surgery, School of Medicine, University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA; ⁴Department of Surgery, University of South Alabama School of Medicine, Mobile, AL

Prior work has suggested unconscious bias in speaker introductions at SSO annual meetings. Surveys show that speakers prefer professional forms of address during introductions. Guidelines for respectful discourse were developed and distributed to 2021 SSO meeting moderators, after which professional introductions increased significantly, helping to create an inclusive environment (<https://doi.org/10.1245/s10434-021-10808-2>).

