EDITORIAL

This issue of Behavior Research Methods, Instruments, & Computers features a Special Section entitled “Methodological Approaches to the Study of Sustained Work/Sustained Operations.” The 13 contributions to this section resulted from the combined organizational efforts of Carl P. Englund (Naval Health Research Center) and Gerald P. Krueger (Walter Reed Army Institute of Research).

Joseph B. Sidowski