This issue of Behavior Research Methods, Instruments, & Computers is dedicated to the 15th annual meeting of the Society for Computers in Psychology, held in Boston, Massachusetts, November 21, 1985. The one-day conference included presentations divided among three symposia, a presidential address, an invited address, and five paper sessions. Opportunities for public domain software swaps also were provided.

The Program Review Committee consisted of Doris Aaronson, David Eckerman, Jim Howard, Earl Hunt, Richard Lehman, Stephen Link, Kathryn Spoehr, and Jonathan Vaughan. The Program Committee Chairs were Ira Fischler and C. Michael Levy of the University of Florida.

Walter Schneider, University of Illinois at Champaign, was elected President for 1985-1986. The outgoing President of the Society is Dominic Massaro, University of California at Santa Cruz. Cynthia Hull, Federation of Behavioral, Psychological, and Cognitive Sciences, is President-Elect. David A. Eckerman, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, continues as Secretary-Treasurer.

Newly elected members of the Steering Committee are Alan Lesgold, Learning Research and Development Center, University of Pittsburgh; Cynthia McDaniel, Northern Kentucky University; and John Theios, University of Wisconsin. Other members of the Steering Committee are Doris Aaronson, New York University; Ira Fischler, University of Florida; Isidore Gormezano, University of Iowa; Earl Hunt, University of Washington; Stephen Link, McMaster University; Mary Beth Rosson, IBM Watson Research Center; and Joseph B. Sidowski, University of South Florida.

Brian Watts, New York University, received the Student Award for 1985. His presentation entitled "FORTH, A Software Solution to Real-Time Computing Problems" is printed in these Proceedings.

The 16th annual meeting of the Society for Computers in Psychology will convene in New Orleans, Louisiana, November 12, 1986. The one-day meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel. Individuals interested in suggesting topical areas or in submitting papers for the 1986 meetings are urged to contact the Program Chairpersons, Cynthia McDaniel, Psychology Department, Northern Kentucky University, Highland Heights, Kentucky 41076, or Paula Goolkasian, Department of Psychology, University of North Carolina, Charlotte, North Carolina 28223.

Anyone interested in joining the Society for Computers in Psychology or in participating in the meeting may obtain information by writing to David Eckerman, Department of Psychology, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514. Membership in the group and participation in the meetings are not limited to psychologists. Students are invited to become members and to participate in the meetings.
