

INDEX¹

A

Adams, John, 3
 on democracy, 3
Africans Americans (Blacks), 58, 60, 62, 64, 65, 69–73, 78, 82, 84,
 87n44 and the 1788 Constitution, 61
 and slavery, 62, 64
Almazán, Juan Andreu, 114
Anthony, Susan, 69
Aridoamerica, 91, 92
Authoritarian populism, 256, 257
Axioms, 8
Aztecs, 92, 93, 126n8

B

Bailey v. Patterson rule of 1962,
 73
Brazil, 7
British colonizers beliefs, values, and ideas, 10 religion, 11

Brown v Board of Education of Topeka, Kansas, 72
 and “separate but equal,” 72

C

Camacho, Avila (President), 114
Cárdenas, Lázaro (President), 111–114, 119, 122, 123
Carranza, Venustiano, 109
Catholic Church, 92, 93, 104, 121 and the military, 11 and the unitary state, 12
Caudillo, 100, 102, 105, 128n49
Centralists (conservatives), 99
Cessation of territory, 68
Chavez, Hugo, 251, 255, 256
Christianity, 56
Churchill, Winston, 3, 15n5
 on democracy, 3
Civil Rights Acts of 1960, 73
 of 1964, 73
 of 1965, 73

¹Note: Page numbers followed by ‘n’ refer to notes.

- Civil War, 64–66, 69, 75, 76, 78, 84
and African American men, 69
- Colombia, 1, 4–6, 10, 13
and colonial period; and African slaves, 140; and Antioquia, 140; and arrival of Spaniards, 166; and Cartagena, 139; and cleanliness of blood, 142; and composition of population, 162; and Comunero movement, 143; and creoles, 142; and economic activities, 139; and encomiendas, 167; and establishment of Santafé de Bogotá, 139; and gold, 140; and Kingdom of New Granada, 139; and mestizo population, 139, 142; and regions, 137, 139, 152, 163, 167; and resguardos, 140; and settlements, 138; and Spanish monarchy, 140, 141; and structure of society, 138, 141, 142, 167, 168; and taxes, 143; and topography, 163; and trade, 138, 148, 152; and Viceroyalty of New Granada, 141, 142
- and independence period; and Bogotá, 139, 144; and Bolívar, Simón, 146; and Cádiz, 144; and Cartagena, 142; and Castas, 147; and Central Junta, 143, 144; and Congress of Cucuta, 147, 148; and Council of Regency, 169; and Cundinamarca, 146; and Ferdinand VII, 144, 146; and New Granada, 139–142; and Quito, 144
- and post-independence period; and Alliance for Progress, 157; and Betancur, Belisario, 160; and Bogotazo, 157; and Bolívar, Simón, 146–148, 169, 170; and Cali cartel, 163; and Catholic Church, 164; and civil war, 150, 164, 194; and clientelism, 161; and Colombian Agrarian Reform Institute (INCORA), 157; and Communists, 154; and Confederation of Workers of Colombia (CTC), 154; and conservatives, 150, 152, 192; and consociationalism, 156; and Constitution of 1886, 150; and corruption, 162, 177, 178, 194; and debt, 148; and Decree-Law 444, 158; and Democratic Alliance M-19 (ADM-19), 162; and exaltados, 148, 149; and federalism (federal system), 149, 150; and foreign markets, 147; and free trade, and bananas, 158; and free trade, and Cinchona bark, 149; and free trade, and coffee, 171; and free trade, and tobacco, 143, 149, 158, 167, 168; and Gaitan, Jorge Elicier, 155; and Gran Colombia, 147, 148, 170; and Great Depression, 152; and gremios, 198n72; and guerrilla movements, 163, 165; and hypothesis, 194; and industrialization, 152, 153; and La Regeneración, 150; and La Violencia, 155; and Latifundia, 152, 157; and Liberal Republic, 155; and liberals, 150, 152, 192; and “lost decade,” 160; and Medellín cartel, 161; and

- National Constituent Assembly, 177; and National Front, 157, 192; and National Liberation Army (ELN), 160; and National Party, 150; and National Salvation Movement (MSN), 162; and “nation of cities,” 157; and 19th of April Movement (M-19), 160; and Olaya Herrera, Enrique, 153; and pacted transition, 193; and Panama, 141, 151; and Patriotic Unit (UP), 161; and Plan Colombia, 163; and political participation, 147, 194; and Popular National Alliance (ANAPO), 158; and regional divisions, 164; and Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC), 160; and right-wing death squads, 160; and Rojas Pinilla, General Gustavo, 156; and role of military, 144, 164; and Samper, Ernesto, 163; and Santander, Francisco de Paula, 147, 148, 170; and social obligation, 153; and suffrage, 150; and transportation, 152, 164; and urbanization, 152, 153; and Uribe, Alvaro, 163; and US investments, 151; and War of the Thousand Days, 151
 - and pre-colonial period, 138
- Colombia-Venezuela, 191
 - and hypotheses, 191
- Colonial period, 1, 5, 12
 - pre-, 8
- Colonization
 - by British, 55–58, 92–95, 209–211
 - and effects of regions economic wealth, 248
 - by Spaniards, 247, 248
- Colonizers, 8, 10, 11
 - values, beliefs, and ideas, 8
- Colosio, Luis Donaldo, 118
- Competitive oligarchy, 62
- Confederation, 58, 60
- Congress, 58, 59, 61–65, 70, 71, 73–75, 78, 80, 82–84, 102, 103, 106, 120
 - and 14th and 15th Amendments, 65
- Connecticut Compromise, 60
- Constitution of 1917
 - and 123, 110
 - and article 3, 109
 - and article 14, 109
 - and article 27, 110
- Cortés, Hernán, 92
- Costa Rica, 1, 4–6, 10, 13, 209–239
 - Colonial period; and absence of
 - encomiendas, 211; and
 - Captaincy General of Guatemala, 223; and
 - colonization, 209, 233; and
 - gold, 209, 210; and indigenous population, 210, 212; and
 - isolation, 210; and Pacific coast, 210; and poverty, 221; and size of population, 220, 222, 236; and
 - social mobility, 211
 - Post-Independence period; and
 - annexation to Mexican empire, 223; and Arévalo, Juan José, 218, 231; and bananas export, 214; and Calderon, Rafael Angel, 217, 218; and Carrillo, Braulio, 212; and Catholic Church, 212, 216; and
 - Catholic Unity Party, 216; and
 - Chinchilla, Laura, 221; and
 - Citizens Actions Party, 221; and
 - cleavages, and coffee export, 215; and comparison

Costa Rica (cont.)

with Chile, 215; and conservatives, 212; and coup, 213; and Democratic Party, 213; and democratization, 209–239; and egalitarian traits, 219; and federalist system, 213; and Fernandez, Prospero, 213, 214; and Figueres, José, 217; and Founding Council, 218; and Great Depression, 217; and Guardia, Tomas, 213, 214; and Guatemala, 211; and homogenous population, 214; and International Work Group for Indigenous Affairs, 220; and Latinobarómetro, 220; and liberal oligarchic state, 215; and liberals, 216; and liberation, 211; and Meseta Central, 211; and middle-class, 222; and military (army), 213, 216, 219; and mineral wealth (gold), 215, 233; and Mora, Juan Rafael, 212; and National Liberation army, 218; and National Liberation Front, 221; and National Unity Party, 217; and Nicaragua, 210, 224, 225, 234, 236; and political strife, 216; and representative system, 212; and Republican Party, 217; and San José-Limón railroad, 214; and Social Christian Unity Party, 221; and Solís, Luis Guillermo, 221; and Somoza, Anastasio, 218; and Soto, Bernardo, 213; and support for democracy, 220, 237; and Ticos, 212; and Tinoco, José Federico, 217; and Tinoco, José Joaquín, 217; and Ulate

Blanco, Otilio, 217; and uncontrolled capitalism, 235; and United Provinces of Central America, 239n7; and United States, and Vanguard Party (communists), 218; and voting restrictions, 225

Costa Rica and Guatemala, 209–239 and hypotheses; about the consolidation of the power of the state, 236; about the creation of a stable democracy, 236, 237

Council of Regency, 95

Cuauhtémoc Cárdenas, 119, 121

D

Dahl, Robert, 25, 26, 28–33 closed hegemonic regimes, 26 competitive oligarchies, 26, 28, 29 conditions necessary to develop a polyarchy, 33
 definition of democracy, 28, 32, 33
 inclusive hegemonies, 27
 Declaration of Independence, 66
 De la Madrid, Miguel (President), 117
 Democracy
 contradictions, 2, 3, 6, 13 culture of, 41, 43
 and Democracy Index, 257 and the Electoral College, 79 and flawed democracy, 251, 257 and the House of Representatives, 79 impact of economic growth on, 35, 39, 41 impact of ethnic cleavages on, 40 impact of regional cleavages on, 40 and ranking of US, 84, 85 and seeds of its own destruction, 3, 257

- theories of, 17–45
 in the United States, 55–85
- Democratic regime creation (formation) of, 1, 3, 7, 8, 14 stability of, 5, 7, 8, 10
- Democratization international effects on, 10 theory of, 8
 third wave of, 14
- Demos, 29–31
 the nature of the, 29
- Diamond, Larry, 35–39, 42, 43
 civil society and democracy, 42 conditions necessary to generate a democracy, 35, 37–39, 42 control over the military in a democracy, 27
- Díaz, Porfirio (President), 106–111, 122, 129n73
- Díaz Ordaz, Gustavo (President), 115, 116
- Dominguez, Jorge, 17, 18
 definition of state, 17
- Douglass, Frederick, 69
 and African American men, 69, 70
 and rights of women to vote, 69
- Drug trafficking, 117
- Duverger, Maurice, 30 competition within a party, 30
- E
- Economic growth, 12, 13
 impact of economic growth, 12 on voting, 13
- Elías Calles, Plutarco (President), 110, 111
- Encomienda, 93
- Ethnic groups and gracias al sacar, 95 and purity, 94, 95
 and social rank, 94
- F
- Failed and collapsed states, 19
- Federal Electoral Institute (IFE), 120, 121
- Federalists (Liberals), 99, 102, 128n45, 128n55
- Federal republic, 98
- Federal system, 12
- First World War and the 19th Amendment, 70 and the role of women, 70
- Fox, Vicente (President), 120, 121
- G
- Grant, Ulysses, 65, 66 and Native Americans, 65, 66 and Peace Policy, 66
- Great Depression, 71, 76
- Guatemala, 1, 4–6, 10, 13
 Independence and Post-independence; and Accord on Socio-Economic Issues, and Accord on Strengthening of Civilian Power and Role of the Armed Forces in a Democratic Society, 230; and Arbenz, Jacobo, and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 228, 231; and Arbenz, Jacobo, and Eisenhower, President Dwight, 228; and Arbenz, Jacobo, and Labor Court, 228; and Arbenz, Jacobo, and United Fruit, 228; and Arévalo, José, and capitalism, 226; and Arévalo, José, and Caribbean

Guatemala (cont.)

Legion, 227; and Arévalo, José, and labor Code, 227; and Arévalo, José, and Marxism (communism), 226, 227; and Arévalo, José, and Patterson, Richard, 228; and Arévalo, José, and spiritual socialism, 226; and Arévalo, José, and Truman, President Harry, 227; and Arévalo, José, and Washington, 226, 227; and Baldetti, Roxana, 239; and Barrios, Rufino, 225; and Bustamante, Captain General José de, 223; and Carrera, Rafael, 225; and Castro, Fidel, 236; and Catholic Church, 231; and Cerna y Cerna, Vicente, 225; and Committee for Peasant Unity (CUC), 229; and conservatives, 224, 230; and corruption, 233; and coups, 225; and economic growth, 225; and Fuerzas Rebeldes Armadas, 229; and Guatemala City, 211; and Honduras, and Human Development Index (HDI), 210, 233, 238; and Human Rights Accord, 230; and independence, 223; and indigenous people (communities), 228, 233; and Inequality-Adjusted HDI, 238; and International Commission Against Impunity in Guatemala (CICIG), 238; and Ladinos, 234; and liberals, 226, 231; and Mayans, 222, 229; and Mexican Empire, 230; and military, and Morales, Jimmy, 228–230, 232, 239; and

Morazán, General Francisco, 224; and Nicaragua, 217, 236; and Pérez Molina, Otto, 239; and Ponce Vaides, Juan Federico, 226; and Resettling of Displaced Populations Accord, 230; and Sandinistas, 229; and Truth and Reconciliation Committee, 230; and Ubico, Jorge, and Vagrancy Law, 225, 226, 231; and United Fruit, 217, 226, 228; and United Provinces of Central America, 211, 224, 230; and US military advisors, and violence, 229, 238; and voting rights, 225, 231; Galvez, Mariano, 224

Pre-colonial and colonial period; and agricultural-based society, and audiencia, 222, 223, 228; and Captaincy General of Guatemala, and empire, 210, 223; covert operation, 228; and languages, 222; and population, 222, 229, 232–234, 238

H

Haynes, Jeff, 35

conditions necessary to develop a democracy in Latin America, 35

Hidalgo y Costilla, Miguel, 96

Huntington, Samuel, 22

patterns of political modernization, 22

Hypotheses

and African Americans, 254 and civil rights, 254 and Cold War, 254
and corruption, 255
and cultural bonds, 249

- and development of a properly structured bureaucracy, 255
 - and economic growth, 250
 - and Fidel Castro, 254
 - and increase in non-status quo political parties, 250, 253
 - and increase in voter participation, 250, 253
 - and increase in workforce, 250
 - on Mexico, 249–251, 254–256
 - and relationship of military with civilian leaders, 252, 253
 - and role of Catholic Church, 253
 - and role of military force, 249, 252, 253
 - and Second World War, 254
 - and secular federal state vs. non-secular unitary state, 250
 - and voting rights, 254
 - on Venezuela, 250, 251, 254
- I
- Independence, 4–6, 9–11, 15n11
 - Indian Citizenship Act*, 70
 - Indigenous populations
 - characteristics of, 10
 - size of, 11
 - structure of, 11
 - Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI)
 - and ideological differences, 114
 - and National Confederation of Popular Organizations (CNOP), 112
 - and National Peasant Confederation (CNC), 112
 - and Regional Confederation of Mexican Workers (CROM), 111
- J
- Johnson, Andrew, 64
 - and 1866 Civil Rights Act, 64
 - and 14th and 15th Amendments, 65
 - Juarez, Benito (President), 102–105, 108, 109, 122
 - Junta Central, 96, 97
 - and Constitution of the Spanish Monarchy, 96
- K
- Kansas-Nebraska Act*, 63
 - Karl, Terry, 24, 25
 - Resource Curse (Paradox of Plenty Theory), 24, 25
 - Venezuela's oil dependence, 24
 - Kennedy, John F., 73
 - and 1963 civil rights speech, 73
 - King, Martin Luther, 73
 - and "I have a dream," speech, 73
- L
- Liberals, 97, 99–104, 106, 108
 - Lincoln, Abraham, 63, 64, 73, 75
 - and Abandoned Lands, 64
 - and The Bureau of Refugees, 64
 - and 1860 elections, 63
 - and emancipation and sanctity of slavery in the South, 63
 - Freedmen, 64
 - Linz, Juan, 21, 34
 - conditions necessary to develop a democracy, 21
 - difference between state and nation, 21
 - Locke, John, 58
 - and freedom, 58
 - and slavery, 58

López-Alves, Fernando, 23, 24 process of state formation in Latin America, 23 state creation hypotheses, 23, 24
 López de Santa Anna, Antonio (General), 100
 López Mateos, Adolfo (President), 115
 López Obrador, Andrés Manuel (President), 121
 López Portillo, José (President), 116, 117
 Lowi, Theodore, 19 dimensions of state strength, 19

M

Machiavelli, 2
 on democracy, 2
 Madero, Francisco (President), 108, 109
 Madison, James, 3
 on democracy, 3
 Maximilian (Emperor), 104, 108
 Merkel, Wolfgang, 27, 28, 31 conceptualization of democracy, 28 delegative democracy, 27, 28 domain democracy, 27, 28 exclusive democracy, 27, 29, 31 illiberal democracy, 27, 29
 Mesoamerica, 92
 Mestizo, 94, 96, 127n37
 Methodology process tracing, 3 sequential relationships, 3 theoretical argument, 3
 Mexica, 92
 Mexican miracle, 116
 Mexico, 1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 13
 Military and communism, 14
 coups, 5

force, 5, 7, 12 impact on democratization, 14 impact on state creation, 12, 13
 Miscegenation, 94
 Mitchell, Timothy, 19 boundary between state and society, 19
 Montezuma, 92
 Morelos, José Maria, 96

N

National Action Party (PAN) and Alliance for Change, 121, 132n131 and Green Ecological Party of Mexico (PVEM), 121, 132n131
 National American Woman Suffrage Association (NAWSA), 70
 National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), 72
 National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM), 115, 116 National debt and exchange rate, 117
 and GDP, 117
 and IMF, 117
 and inflation, 117
 National Strike Council (CNH), 115
 Native Americans, 93
 Natural resources, 8, 10, 11
 New Jersey Plan, 57
 New Spain, 94–98, 127n26
 Nineteenth Amendment, 69, 70, 84 and passage of, 70
 Nondemocratic, conditions, 29–33, 35
 Non-secular state, 248, 249, 252
 Northern states, and industrialization, 62

O

- O'Donnell, Guillermo, 29, 31
 - democratic oligarchy, 29
- Oil industry
 - and nationalization of, 111
 - and oil reserves, 116
 - and the United States, 110
- Olympic games, 115

P

- Paredes Arrillaga, Mariano (General), 101
- Pax-Americana, 76
- Peña Nieto, Enrique (President), 121
- Peninsulares, 95, 97, 99
- Plan of Ayutla*, 102
- Plan of Iguala*, 97
- Plato, 2
 - on democracy, 2
- Political participation, 13
- Political parties, 5, 12, 13
 - Democratic Party, 63
 - emergence of, 12, 13
 - Republican Party, 63
 - Whig Party, 62
- Political regime, 58, 59, 62, 71, 74, 79, 84
- Property
 - and liberty, 58, 59, 63
 - and suffrage, 59

Q

- Qualifications to vote, 60
 - and white men, 60

R

- Racial differences, 62
 - and cultural beliefs, 62

- Reconstruction era, 66
 - and responses by Southern states, 66
- Region
 - divisions, 12
 - economic significance, 11
- Rokkan, Stein, 19, 20, 47n17
 - stages of state creation, 19
 - theory of state creation, 20
- Roosevelt, Franklin, 71, 72

S

- Safford, Frank, 23, 24
 - state building in Latin America, 23
- Salinas de Gortari, Carlos (President), 119
- Sartori, Giovanni, 28, 29, 32
 - definition of democracy, 28
 - elite theory of democracy, 28
 - majority rule, 30, 32
- Sassen, Saskia, 21, 67, 68
 - evolution of United States as a State, 21
 - and lawmaking through judiciary, 67
 - and new form of capitalism (Imperialism), 68
 - and world economic rivalry, 68
- Schumpeter, Joseph, 30
 - exclusion of participants, 30
- Second World War (WWII), 71
 - and impact on African Americans, 72
- Secular state, 248–250, 252
- Separate Car Act of 1890*, 71
 - and Plessy v Ferguson case, 71
- Skocpol, Theda, 19, 46n12
 - state autonomy, 19
- Skowronek, Stephen, 22, 66–68
 - and changes in the American economy, 66
 - constitutional federalism, 23
 - and creation of administrative bureaucracies, 67

Skowronek, Stephen (cont.)
 creation of US state structure, 22 impact of forces of industrialization on state creation, 23
 and political parties and courts, 66 and post-Civil War era, 63
 Social constructivism, 39
 Southern colonies, 57
 Southern states and differences with Northern states, 62
 and slavery and right to vote, 65 Spanish American colonies, 4, 5, 12 leaders, 4
 states, 4, 5, 7, 13, 14
 Spanish colonizers, 10, 11
 values, beliefs, and ideas, 10
 Spanish monarchy, 92, 94
 Stamp Act, 124
 State
 consolidation of power of, 8, 10, 12 creation and political regime formation, 9, 10
 failed, 7, 8 legitimate, 3, 8–10, 11 obstacles to state creation (formation), 9
 State creation, 17–45
 theories, 17–45
 State legislatures, 59, 61
 Stepan, Alfred, 21, 34 conditions necessary to develop a democracy, 21
 difference between state and nation, 21
 Strong Principle of Equality, 30, 32, 74 and democracy, 74

T

Tenochtitlán, 92
 Territorial expansion and protectionism, 63 and sectionalism, 62
 and slavery, 63
 and state rights, 63
 Third wave of democratization, 256
 Tilly, Charles, 17–20
 definition of state, 17
 theory of state creation, 17, 19
 Transformations
 fifth, 115–121
 first, 98–105
 fourth, 111–114
 second, 105–109
 third, 109–111
 Transparency International Corruption
 Index, 125
 Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, 101
 Truman, Harry, 71 and Marshall Plan, 71 and Truman Doctrine, 71

U

Unitary and non-secular state vs.
 federal and secular state, 121, 191, 248–250
 Unitary (centralized) system, 12
 United States
 Civil and Voting Rights, 13 cult of true womanhood, 69 economic cleavages, 12 and the ideal women, 69 independence, 10
 northern colonies, 11
 political regime, 1, 4, 6, 10
 settlers, 11
 southern colonies, 11
 thirteen colonies, 57, 58
 US-Mexican war, 101

V

Vattel, Eric, 18

sovereignty, 18

Venezuela, 1, 4–6, 10, 13, 14

and colonial period; and African slaves, 167, 168; and Audiencia, 169; and cattle ranchers, 167; and cleavages, 168; and commerce, 168, 171; and contraband, 168; and encomiendas, 140; and German commercial banking, 167; and gold, 166; and hypothesis, 192; and indigenous population, 167; and mantuanos, 167; and pardos, 167, 168; and peninsulares, 144, 167; and regional divisions, 164; and trade, 166, 168

and independence; and Bolívar, Simón, 148, 170; and Caracas, 145, 169, 170, 172, 175, 185, 188, 189; and Caracas Cabildo, 169; and caraqueño, 169, 170; and Ferdinand VII, 169; and First Republic, 169; and Páez, José Antonio, 170, 171; and Spanish Junta, 169; and Third Republic, 170

and post-independence; and Betancourt, Romulo, 174–176, 178; and Bolivarian Revolution, 184; and bureaucracy, 172, 189; and Caldera, Rafael, 183, 184; and Castro, Cipriano, 172; and Catholic Church, 177; and caudillos, 189, 195; and Chávez, Hugo, 185–187, 190; and Citizen Power, 184; and clientelism, 165 (see also under Colombia); and Cold War, 182; and Communist Party, 161, 175, 176, 179; and conservatives, 188; and consociational democracy, 179; and Democratic Action (AD), 174; and Democratic Coordinator (CD), 185; and Democratic Republic Union, 176; and economic growth, 171, 189; and Electoral Power, 184; and exports, 168, 171, 173, 181, 185; and external debt, 148; and Falcon, Juan C., 172; and Federal Wars, 172, 188; and Fifth Republic Movement (MVR), 183; and Gallegos, Rómulo, 176; and Gomez, Juan Vicente, 172–175; and Guzmán Blanco, Antonio, 172; hypotheses, 190; and International Monetary Fund (IMF), 182; and inter-regional communication and transportation, 172; and labor reforms, 171–172; and liberals, 171, 188; and Lopez Contreras, Eleazar, 175; and Maduro, Nicolas, 187, 190; and Maduro, Nicolas, and inflation, 173, 180, 181, 187, 188, 190; and Maduro, Nicolas, and International Monetary Fund (IMF), 182; and Maduro, Nicolas, and Medina Angarita, Isaias, 175; and Maduro, Nicolas, and National Electoral Commission, 187; and Maduro, Nicolas, International Organization for Migration, 190; and Maduro, Nicolas, and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 187; and Maduro, Nicolas, and

Venezuela (cont.)

DICOM exchange rate system, 188; and Maduro, Nicolas, and DIPRO exchange-rate system, 187; and Maduro, Nicolas, and UN Commissioner for Refugees, 190; and Maduro, Nicolas, and World Bank, 187; and military coup, 177, 183; and military, and military coup, 156, 172, 177, 183; and Patriotic Military Union (UPM), 176, 202n173; and Monagas, Tadeo, 171, 172; and Movement Toward Socialism (MAS), 179; and National Assembly, 184, 185, 187; and National Constituent Assembly, 162, 177; and oil, and agriculture, 167, 173, 180; and oil, and corruption, 177, 181, 183, 194; and oil, and export earnings, 187; and oil, and imports, 167; and oil, and inflation, 180, 187, 188, 190; and oil, and Middle East oil embargo, 180; and oil, and poverty, 185; and oil, and subsidization of nascent domestic industries, 181; and oil, and wages, 173; and oil, as capital-intensive industry, 173; and Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), 185; and pact transition, 193; and Paez, Antonio, 170, 171; and Patriotic Junta, 178; and Perez Jimenez, Marcos, 177, 178; and Petroleum of Venezuela(PDVSA) Venezuela; and Petroleum of

Venezuela(PDVSA), 185; and Project for Constitutional Reform, 185; and Punto Fijo Pact, 178, 181; and Revolutionary Left Movement (MIR), 179; and rural elites, 173, 177; and Social Christian Party (COPEI), 176; and suffrage, 171, 175, 176; and Supreme Court, 184, 187; and trienio, 176; and Venezuelan Organization Movement (ORVE), 175; and Venezuelan Workers Confederation (CTV), 185

and pre-colonial period, 166–168
Viceroy, 92, 93, 95
powers of, 93

Voting

and anarchy, 60
as a natural right, 60 and taxation, 59
and voting rights, 61, 62, 73, 84

W

War of Reform, 103

Wars

their impact on democratization, 13 their impact on state formation, 13

Washington, George, 71

Wilson, Woodrow, 68–70

and First World War, 68 and women's rights, 70

Z

Zapatista Army of National Liberation (EZLN), 118

Zedillo, Ernesto (President), 119, 120