

APPENDIX

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Human Rights and Development These think tanks are mainly responsible for dealing with poverty, discrimination, gender, sexuality, basic needs, decent living standards, and empowerment such as enhancing working skills to help the lower level of society climb the ladder.

Economic Policy and Business Empowerment These think tanks are involved in providing assistance on economic issues, (monetary, fiscal among various others) as well as overall economic development. They are involved in promoting international trade as well as global economic activities of the country. The Business Development is mainly of a private sector. It involves assistance in setting up of SMEs, providing better management, and incorporating technology and other more efficient tools in everyday business activities.

Security and International Affairs These think tanks deal with military, defense as well as the international relations of the country. These institutions also provide policy advice on border conflicts between countries.

Health and Environment These think tanks are involved in shaping healthcare policies, as well as provide assistance and guidance to deal with severe diseases such as AIDS, Ebola, and so on. Some of them are also involved in the protection of the environment, water resources as well as reducing global warming/climate change.

Education and Science and Technology These think tanks engage in enhancing educational methodologies, schools, and other institutions, as well as providing better access to education. Think tanks involved in the development of science and technology are also under this category.

Agriculture These think tanks are involved in promoting farming, enhancing farming, and agricultural techniques, as well as promoting rural development with a focus on agriculture.

Cultural These think tanks are involved in the study of societal history and traditions, as well as media communications.

Disaster Management These think tanks are engaged in dealing with natural disasters such as earthquakes, tsunamis, storms, and so on. These think tanks are engaged in both anticipation and reaction plans.

Energy These think tanks are dedicated to mineral extraction, power supply, and the oil industry.

Good Governance These think tanks promote democracy, civil rights, anti-corruption, and fair elections.
