During the last 40 years many friends, colleagues, students and institutions provided material or supported the book with critical remarks or inspiring thoughts. Here I just mention and thank institutions and persons who essentially supported the book.

The Swiss Federal Research Institute WSL, Birmensdorf, provided the technical infrastructure and financial support. Colleagues from the phytopathological and entomological department provided material for macro-photographs or micro-sections.

The WSL Birmensdorf financially supported excursions to Georgia and Greenland, the WSL shop was always ready to support me with office material, and Bert Hoewecke never got tired to solve my IT problems.

The heads of the Botanical Gardens in Bern, Birmensdorf, Basel, Zurich, Orsières, Munich, Tübingen, Padova, Helsinki, Funchal, Tbilisi, Ekaterinburg, Krasnoyarsk and Magadan allowed me to sample rare plants.

Sandro Luchinetti from the Daples Schenkung Zurich technically developed microtomes which were essential for producing perfect micro-sections.

Discussion during the International Dendroanatomical Weeks with participants from all over the world were very inspiring.

Special thanks go to Ulf Buentgen in Cambridge (UK), Alan Crivellaro in Padova (Italy), Jiri Dolezal in Trebon (Czech Republic) and Holger Gärtner in Birmensdorf (Switzerland) for intensive scientific discussions.

I especially would like to thank my wife Elisabeth for her generosity. Her patience was almost unlimited during hundreds of common field trips and lonely long summers. She had me on the long leash.
