

ROMANTICISM AND THE OBJECT

Nineteenth-Century Major Lives and Letters

Series Editor: Marilyn Gaull

The nineteenth century invented major figures: gifted, productive, and influential writers and artists in English, European, and American public life who captured and expressed what Hazlitt called "The Spirit of the Age." Their achievements summarize, reflect, and shape the cultural traditions they inherited and influence the quality of life that followed. Before radio, film, and journalism deflected the energies of authors and audiences alike, literary forms such as popular verse, song lyrics, biographies, memoirs, letters, novels, reviews, essays, children's books, and drama generated a golden age of letters incomparable in Western history. Nineteenth-Century

Major Lives and Letters presents a series of original biographical, critical, and scholarly studies of major figures evoking their energies, achievements, and their impact on the character of this age. Projects to be included range from works on Blake to Hardy, Erasmus Darwin to Charles Darwin, Wordsworth to Yeats, Coleridge and J. S. Mill, Joanna Baillie, Jane Austen, Sir Walter Scott, Byron, Shelley, Keats to Dickens, Tennyson, George Eliot, Browning, Hopkins, Lewis Carroll, Rudyard Kipling, and their contemporaries. The series editor is Marilyn Gaull, PhD from Indiana University. She has served on the faculty at Temple University, New York University, and is now Research Professor at the Editorial Institute at Boston University. She brings to the series decades of experience as editor of books on nineteenth century literature and culture. She is the founder and editor of The Wordsworth Circle, author of English Romanticism: The Human Context, publishes editions, essays, and reviews in numerous journals and lectures internationally on British Romanticism, folklore, and narrative theory.

This book is dedicated, first of all, to Romanticism scholars around the world whose interests lie in finding the larger arcs of development behind particulars, but without ignoring cross-linguistic and interdisciplinary details; secondly, to Fran Botkin and Erin Goss for their grasp of how a scholarly gathering should be conducted; and thirdly, to Janet Peer's uncommon common sense and general excellence.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The production of this book would not have been possible without the detailed professionalism of the staff at Palgrave Macmillan, the support of colleagues in the International Conference on Romanticism, the suggestions of several anonymous readers, and the technical expertise of Matthew Perry. I thank them all for their generosity.

Three of the book's chapters have appeared, some in an earlier form, in The Wordsworth Circle, volume xxxvix, 1–2 (2008). I am grateful to the editorial staff of that journal for permission to use the work of Michael Gamer, Marilyn Gaull, and Diane Long Hoeveler.
