

Part II

Futures

This [colonial] system has pulled Indians into the Western worldview, and some of the brighter ones are now emerging on the other side, having traversed the Western body of knowledge completely. Once this path has been established, it is almost a certainty that the rest of the Indian community will walk right on through the Western worldview and emerge on the other side also.

—Vine Deloria, Jr.