

PART III

THE FINISH LINE

As the promotion and tenure clock winds down, the Academic Scientist must organize and prepare for the decision by his/her institution. Chapter 10 discusses the process, with the specific advice to find out the rules and guidelines at your institution as early as possible. This section will also provide the results of the national survey that was performed for this book. Additional quotations of the respondents are included for the reader.