Acknowledgments

This book relies heavily on the work of others, especially those whose work is described and discussed, and I would like to acknowledge my debt to them, in particular Professors D. W. Hamlyn and R. S. Peters, both of whom taught me at Birkbeck College. I also wish to express a special debt to Professor D. J. O'Connor for his help, encouragement, and detailed comments, and to thank Mrs. Peggy Martin and Miss Ruth Yendell for typing the manuscript.
