Preface

This book has been primarily designed to prepare students for the 'A' level examination in economics. In addition, it should also provide a useful reference for Scottish Higher Certificate examinations; for the first year of undergraduate studies; and for professional papers which contain economics. We hope that students revising or following self-study, distance learning courses will find benefit in following through a series of structured worked examples.

Work Out Economics 'A' Level is based on a thorough analysis of all the syllabuses set by the examining groups listed in the Acknowledgements. It has been structured to enable effective revision. Each chapter begins by setting out a summary of the essential economics that students need to know. Students are then presented with examples of past data response and essay questions set by examining groups, together with complete solutions. Where appropriate, new questions reflecting recent developments in the subject have also been included. All multiple-choice questions have been set by the authors, and solutions explain not only why a particular answer is correct, but also why other options are wrong.

All answer guidelines are our sole responsibility and have not been provided or approved by any examining group.

All examining groups would wish to point out that worked examples included in the text are entirely the responsibility of the authors and have neither been provided nor approved by the board. They may not constitute the only possible solutions.

The University of London School Examinations Board accepts no responsibility whatsoever for the accuracy or method of working in the answers given.

The authors and publisher would also like to thank the following, who have also given permission for the use of copyright material:

The Guardian
The Independent
Times Newspapers Ltd

Every effort has been made to trace all copyright holders but if any have inadvertently been overlooked, the publishers will be pleased to make the necessary arrangements at the first opportunity.

We are most grateful to the following Heads of Economics for their careful reading and correction of some or all of the original typescript:

Clarrie Haynes, Marlborough School, Woodstock, Oxfordshire
Danny Myers, New College, Swindon, Wiltshire
Brian Sangster, Burford School, Oxfordshire
Jonathan Townsend, Abingdon School, Oxfordshire
Laurence Whitehouse, Farnborough Sixth Form College, Hampshire

A particular thanks to Robert Ackrill for the long hours of invaluable assistance given freely in shaping the initial stages of the book. Past students of West Oxfordshire Technical College, Corrina Boreham, Angela Frost, Clare Guy and Robert Prior-Wandesforde, and Sally Trego, formerly of Matthew Arnold School, corrected many early errors. We also owe a huge debt to the many other students who have painstakingly worked through the examples. Robert Sulley of Macmillans has given the most helpful support.

Since this is a joint venture, both authors thank their families for their sacrifices, patience and understanding throughout.

Any failings which remain are entirely our own.
