Acknowledgements

This book is the result of a long period of reflection about finance in the health service. The authors would like to thank everyone involved in that period of reflection, especially Richenda Milton-Thompson and staff at Macmillan.

Thanks are also due to Professor Graham Kelly and Dr Roger Kendle for allowing us access to multi-disciplinary teams over a long period of years, and to Professor John Blake and Diane Roberts for their cheerful and unobtrusive encouragement. Finally, the greatest thanks to Angela Elsworth, Maria Wang, Penny Heaney and Sadiya Ali, without whose help this book would have remained a dream.

We hope that you, the reader, will write to us with improvements and suggestions for future editions, and we wish you every good wish in your professional career.
