Acknowledgements

Many people helped in the writing of this book, by giving ideas, advice, support and encouragement. Heather Roberts provided invaluable assistance by spending many Saturday afternoons reading chapters and offering constructive criticism. Others who read chapters were Arthur Rutherford, Judy Nixon, Dave Evans and Eva Garmonikow. The staff in the library at Langley College of Further Education were supportive and tolerant of my dependence on their services. Finally, I would like to acknowledge the encouragement I received from the many people who took an interest in the progress of this book.

I am very grateful to Pat Newberry for her help in updating the information for the third edition of the book. She painstakingly sought out up-to-date statistics for me and provided invaluable information on the ever-changing scene in social welfare legislation and policy.

The author and publishers wish to thank the following for permission to use copyright material, as follows: The Guardian News Service plc for graphs, 'Daycare and education for children under five', Guardian, 7.12.93, and 'The Richest 500 Club', Guardian, 3.8.94; The Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office for Crown copyright material from Social Trends 1994, Britain 1994: an official handbook and 1991 Census, National Monitor; Routledge for tables from Stewart Lansley and Joanna Mack, Poor Britain, Allen and Unwin, 1985, Tables 1, 2, 3.3; and Sally and Richard Greenhill, Chris Schwartz, Popperfoto, Photofusion and Network Photographers for photographic material. Every effort has been made to trace all the copyright- holders, but if any have been inadvertently overlooked the publishers will be pleased to make the necessary arrangement at the first opportunity.
