I am grateful to Raymond Pringle and John Wright for their comments on the first draft of this book, and to Iris John for typing the manuscript. I am, in addition, indebted to the tenants of the housing estate on which I worked, some of whom appear here under different names. I would also like to thank the many other community workers, students and other professionals whose ideas I have sometimes consciously and often, I am sure, unconsciously used. Finally, I would like to thank my wife both for her helpful comments on the first draft and for her constant encouragement.
