Acknowledgements

I should like to thank the University of Sheffield Research Fund for a grant to write this book; Christina Katic for help with the typescript; Joe Mitchenson for access to so much valuable material and for his patience in guiding me through it.

The publishers and I wish to thank the following who have kindly given permission for the use of copyright material: Associated Book Publishers (UK) Ltd. for extracts from Private Lives by Noel Coward and for various songs from Noel Coward Songbook, Methuen London.

The BBC Hulton Picture Library, Mander and Mitchenson, and Sotheby's for photographs.

Every effort has been made to trace all the copyright holders but if any have been inadvertently overlooked the publishers will be pleased to make the necessary arrangement at the first opportunity.

Editors' Preface

The Macmillan Modern Dramatists is an international series of introductions to major and significant nineteenth and twentieth-century dramatists, movements and new forms of drama in Europe, Great Britain, America and new nations such as Nigeria and Trinidad. Besides new studies of great influential dramatists of the past, the series includes volumes on contemporary authors, recent trends in the theatre and on many dramatists, such as writers of farce, who have created theatre 'classics' while being neglected by literary criticism. The volumes in the series devoted to individual dramatists include a biography, a survey of the plays, and detailed analysis of the most significant plays, along with discussion, where relevant, of the political, social, historical and theatrical context. The authors of the volumes, who are involved with theatre as playwrights, directors, actors, teachers and critics, are concerned with the plays as theatre and discuss such matters as performance, character interpretation and staging, along with themes and contexts.
