The 1970s and 1980s have seen an explosion of publishing by, about and for women. This new list is designed to make a particular contribution to this process by commissioning and publishing books which consolidate and advance feminist research and debate in key areas in a form suitable for students, academics and researchers but also accessible to a broader general readership.

As far as possible books will adopt an international perspective incorporating comparative material from a range of countries where this is illuminating. Above all they will be interdisciplinary, aiming to put women's studies and feminist discussion firmly on the agenda in subject-areas as disparate as law, physical education, art and social policy.

Acknowledgements

Women heads of households have a hard time.

I have discussed some of the ways and means by which they put together an income in different countries, hoping to stimulate thinking about how to develop a comprehensive collective response.

I am greatly indebted to my colleagues John Eekelaar in Oxford, Laura Voneche in Geneva, Benoit Bastard in Paris for their collaboration; and to Lenore Weitzman, Greg Duncan and Martin Rein in the United States.
