Preface to the Fourth Edition

This Notebook has been prepared in response to the request of many students, particularly those studying part-time. Its objects are to save the student's time in making notes and to provide a survey for pre-examination revision. To make reference easy, it follows closely the main text of Modern Economics, 4th edition.

It should not be used for cramming, but to supplement a conscientious study. The following procedure is recommended:

1. Go through the summary and underline with red biro all the chapter headings.

2. Return to the beginning and underline in green biro all the roman-figure section headings. You will now have a good idea of the scope of your textbook.

3. Read the main text of Modern Economics, and use the blank pages of the notebook to amplify the summary with your own examples and diagrams. Black biro can be used to underline the key words given in italics. Do this chapter by chapter.

The object should be to compile an individual and comprehensive notebook which can be carried in the pocket for quick revision purposes at odd times, e.g. when travelling.
