

Part IV

Now that the research has been done, how is it presented? That is, how is it presented to the media and to colleagues? This Part also discusses the mentoring process that is necessary for the optimal development of a junior faculty member into an independent researcher.

Before I give my speech, I have something important to say.

Grocho Marx