Acknowledgements

As any author knows no book can be written without a great deal of help from colleagues. This has been no exception. Thanks are owed to Margaret Wiseman and Monica Byrnes who together word-processed and proof-read the chapters.

My thanks are also due to Dr Peter Jones and the Clinical and Nursing staff of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Rotorua for the time and effort given to me in researching and writing Chapter 14. My colleague Professor Tony Adams was responsible for the material on current and future developments in international education in Chapter 15.

Special thanks to Lynda, my wife, for listening and in particular for improving my computer skills, especially for introducing me to the draw toolbar; an instrument of torture that eventually became a friend!!
