

Latino Education in the United States

Additional Praise for Victoria-María MacDonald's Latino Education in the United States:

MacDonald has provided a comprehensive, readable, and provocative guide for those interested in the historical evolution of Latino education in the United States. The combination of shrewd introductory essays, carefully selected readings, and extensive bibliography should make Latino Education in the United States one of the preferred reference books in the fields of Latino studies, education, and history. . . . One of the most impressive elements of Latino Education in the United States is that it provides an outlet to the many voices associated with Latino educational issues: voices of oppression, hope, discrimination, opportunity, and relentlessness. MacDonald's scholarly command of the historiography of Latino education, combined with extensive archival research, make this book a must-read for those interested in Latino and educational issues.

—Félix V. Matos-Rodríguez, Ph.D. and Director, Centro de Estudios
Puertorriqueños, Hunter College

Latino Education in the United States

A Narrated History from 1513–2000

Victoria-María MacDonald

palgrave macmillan

LATINO EDUCATION IN THE UNITED STATES:
A NARRATED HISTORY FROM 1513–2000

Copyright © Victoria-María MacDonald, 2004.

Softcover reprint of the hardcover 1st edition 2004 978-1-4039-6086-3

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be used or reproduced in any manner whatsoever without written permission except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles or reviews.

First published 2004 by
PALGRAVE MACMILLAN™
175 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010 and Houndmills, Basingstoke, Hampshire, England RG21 6XS.
Companies and representatives throughout the world.

PALGRAVE MACMILLAN is the global academic imprint of the Palgrave Macmillan division of St. Martin's Press, LLC and of Palgrave Macmillan Ltd. Macmillan® is a registered trademark in the United States, United Kingdom and other countries. Palgrave is a registered trademark in the European Union and other countries.

ISBN 978-1-4039-6087-0 ISBN 978-1-4039-8280-3 (eBook)

DOI 10.1057/9781403982803

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data Available from the Library of Congress

MacDonald, Victoria-María, 1960-
Latino education in the United States: A narrated history from 1513-2000 / written and edited by Victoria-María MacDonald.
p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 978-1-4039-6087-0 (pbk.)

1. Hispanic Americans—Education—History. 2. Hispanic
Americans—Education—History—Sources. I. Title: Latino Education in the United States:

A narrated history from 1513-2000. II. Title: Latino Education in the United States:
A narrated history from 1513-2000. III. Title.

LC2670.M33 2004
371.829'68073—dc22

2004043362

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

Design by Autobookcomp.

First edition: November 2004

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

*With gratitude and love to my parents,
George Ewen MacDonald and Leonor Posada MacDonald, who instilled in me a love for learning and gave me the gift of a bicultural heritage.*

This page intentionally left blank

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	1
1. The Colonial Era: Schooling under Spanish Rule, 1513–1821	7
Overview
Documents
1.1 Memorial for the Viceroy about the Missions in New Mexico, 1595	20
1.2 Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, Reply to Sor Philothea, 1691	23
1.3 Report on Mission Rosario—Father Solís, Texas, 1768	26
1.4 Petition to the Cabildo with Response, Don José Francisco de la Mata, Texas, 1786	28
2. Education during the Mexican Era, 1821–1848	31
Overview
Documents
2.1 Statement of the Ayuntamiento on the Purpose of Public Education	45
2.2 Secularization of the Missions—Missionary Point of View, 1833	47
2.3 1833 Legislative Act for the Public Schools of Mexico	49
2.4 Petition Written in Spanish and English to Raise Money for a School and Church, Nacogdoches, Texas, 1831	52
3. Americanization and Resistance: Contested Terrain on the Southwest Frontier, 1848–1912	55
Overview
Documents
3.1 Language Issues in the Public Schools of Texas, 1871	74
3.2 Persistence of Spanish and German Languages in Texas Schools, 1886	75

3.3	Account of a Protestant Missionary in 1850s Brownsville, Texas	76
3.4	Transitions in the Public Schools of California, 1852	82
3.5	From the Report of Apache County, Arizona School Superintendent, 1905	85
3.6	Bilingualism in the Territory of New Mexico, 1889	87
3.7	Higher Education for a Californio, Santa Clara College	88
4. Education and Imperialism at the Turn of the Century: Puerto Rico and Cuba, 1898–1930		93
Overview
Documents
4.1	Expedition of Cuban Teachers to Cambridge, Massachusetts	101
4.2	Farewell Address to General Guy V. Henry, Former Military Governor of Puerto Rico	110
4.3	Teaching English in Public Schools, Puerto Rico	113
5. Segregation and New Arrivals, 1898–1960		117
Overview
Documents
5.1	Teacher’s Certificate, Zapata County, Texas, 1898	124
5.2	Mexican American Schooling in the Southwest circa 1930s	125
5.3	Founding Principles of LULAC	127
5.4	Méndez v. Westminster School District, Orange County, California , 1946	129
5.5	Appeal from Westminster School District, California, 1947	139
5.6	Delgado v. Bastrop Independent School District, Bastrop County, Texas , 1948	146
5.7	Desegregation Orders, Bastrop County, Texas, 1948	152
5.8	Deposition for Delgado v. Bastrop , 1948	154
5.9	Aoy (Mexican Preparatory) School, El Paso, Texas, 1905	165
5.10	“Your American Pupil from Puerto Rico”	167
5.11	Esmeralda Santiago, from When I Was Puerto Rican	172
5.12	Migrant Children in U.S. Public Schools	180
6. Cuban Arrivals, 1959–1980		183
Overview
Documents

6.1	Excerpts from a Statement Made by President Eisenhower and Tracy S. Voorhees from the White House on January 18, 1961	191
6.2	Legacy of Operation Pedro Pan	194
6.3	Reflections on Adolescent Migration from Cuba	197
6.4	Immigrant and Refugee Program, Milwaukee Public Schools	202
6.5	Marielitos at Fort McCoy, Wisconsin, 1980	210
7. In Search of Educational Opportunity and Access, the 1960s and 1970s		215
	Overview
	Documents
7.1	A Mexican American Youth Coming of Age during Civil Rights	230
7.2	Hearing Before the United States Commission on Civil Rights	237
7.3	Crystal City School Walkout Demands	247
7.4	Bilingual Education Act of 1968	249
7.5	Lau v. Nichols , 1974	253
7.6	El Plan de Santa Barbara, 1969	258
7.7	Interview Summation, President of Claremont Colleges, California, 1967	266
7.8	Interview Summation, President of Claremont Colleges, California, 1969	268
7.9	Report to Yale College Administration from Boricuas Unidos	270
8. Un paso hacia adelante, y otro hacia atrás (One step forward, one step back): Latinos and Schooling in the 1980s and 1990s		275
	Overview
	Documents
8.1	Plyler v. Doe , 1982	286
8.2	Executive Memorandum, Oregon Board of Education, 2001	294
8.3	Proposition 227, the Unz Initiative of California, 1998	296
8.4a	Presidential Executive Order 12900	301
8.4b	“Our Nation on the Fault Line: Hispanic American Education,” 1996	305
8.5	The U.S. Census and Latinos, 2000	307
8.6a-b	The Politics of Latino Identity	311
	Notes	317

Resources

339

Index

359

Acknowledgements

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the assistance and support for this project. My editor, Amanda Johnson at Palgrave Macmillan, originally encouraged me to submit a book proposal on this topic. Many thanks for her steadfast encouragement, enthusiasm, and support for me personally and for this project. The Spencer Foundation provided three rounds of funding for my research on Latino educational history between 1997 and 2000. The financial assistance and affirmation of the significance of this work were critical to its conception and creation. A Collaborative Research Grant from the National Academy of Education also permitted additional archival research, enriching the range of documentary sources I was able to include in this volume.

An outstanding team of graduate students at Florida State University worked during the last year to ensure the completion of this manuscript. Research assistant Mark R. Nilles was invaluable. His determination to see this project finished, good humor through many adventures writing this book, and terrific editing skills are greatly appreciated. Kristina M. Goodwin pursued copyright releases and tracked archival sources with zeal and resoluteness. Elizabeth (Lisa) Hoffman Clark's outstanding research and editing skills pulled the book together into one coherent volume. To these students and many others who provided moral support and encouragement, particularly Eleanore Lenington, I am deeply grateful.

Former chair of the Department of Educational Foundations and Policy Studies and Professor Emeritus of Florida State University, Cynthia Wallat, patiently and consistently supported me over the years, understanding that research in a new field is time-consuming, requiring thought and a need to "simmer." I would also like to thank colleague and friend Emanuel Shargel, who has always been an enthusiastic supporter of my work. Many thanks also to staff members Amy McKnight and David Darío Anderson, who provided terrific help in juggling my several responsibilities in the department while finishing the manuscript. Jen Simington provided superior copyediting and skillfully took the book through the final production stages.

I owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to my doctoral advisor and mentor, Joel Perlmann, of Bard College. He opened the world of research to me, particularly the examination of ethnicity, and has provided continuous guidance in my development as a scholar. The pathbreaking work of Guadalupe San Miguel, Jr., and Rubén Donato in the field of Chicano educational history provided a foundation for this work. Their encouragement and support were very helpful. Many years ago, former dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, Patricia A. Graham, recommended that I explore the possibility of studying Hispanic education as a research topic. Although I did not follow her advice for many years, I hope she will be pleased with the publication of this book. My thesis advisor in the Department of History at Wellesley College, Jacqueline Jones (now at Brandeis University), provided a model of a scholar who was building a new field in American history while also raising a family. To her and the many women in academia who forged a path for my generation, many thanks.

Archivists and reference librarians across the country patiently handled inquiries, photocopying requests, and visits. In particular, I would like to recognize the librarians and staff at The Cushing Memorial Library, Texas A and M University; the Library of Congress; the Wisconsin Historical Society; Gladys Dratch and Maryléne Altieri at Special Collections, Monroe C. Gutman Library, Harvard Graduate School of Education; El Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños at Hunter College; and the Rockefeller Archives, Sleepy Hollow, New York.

Family and friends also prodded me and provided support for the completion of this project. My three sons, David Marshall Huntzinger, Michael George Huntzinger, and John MacDonald Huntzinger, have grown up hearing about my book projects. I thank them for their love and comic relief from the rigors of academia. I hope that with this book they will learn something about their Latino heritage. They can also breathe a sigh of relief that it is finally done! My brothers, Robert George MacDonald, Leslie Charles MacDonald, and Charles (Carlos) Kenzie MacDonald, have always cheered on their little sister over the years. I am particularly grateful to Charles for necessary support during the final stages of the manuscript. My grandmother, María del Carmen de Contreras Posada (1900–2003), gave me the gifts of the Spanish language, courage, a love for life, and a feisty spirit. She passed away during the writing of this book, but I know that she is always with us. To my loving parents, George Ewen MacDonald and Leonor Posada MacDonald, I dedicate this book.