Acknowledgements

This book reports findings from the research project Democratic urban development in the digital age (DEMUDIG), funded by the Norwegian Research Council (Project number 281131).

We would like to thank two former students and research assistants at the Oslo Business School, Oslo Metropolitan University. First, Inger Miriam Bertelsen for her assistance in collecting and analysing data. Second, Thor Martin Verpeide Bakke for his assistance in collecting and analysing data, and for his most valuable assistance in preparing the final manuscript of this book for submission. We would, furthermore, thank Dr. Viktor Grechyn, Centre for Urban Research, RMIT University, for his help in statistical analysis of the Melbourne survey results, and Celia Mesa and Manuel Olmedo, both research assistants, for their help in the design of the survey and data collection in Madrid.

We would also like to thank our editor at Palgrave, Stewart Beale and his team, who were most supportive and helpful in the process. Finally, we thank our language editor, Alasdair Graham-Brown, for his significant contribution to the manuscript.
