

Part II

Case Studies

These case studies aim to investigate the application of various solution methodologies to problems demonstrating that the “best” approach is problem specific and that the production and analysis of a mathematical model can lead to an efficient and effective solution methodology.