

Section III

Disease management

“We would do well to remember that management is always a delicate thing, demanding skill and sensitivity rather than a formula. . . .”

(Herman 2002)