PREFACE

The work presented here is based upon contact with excellent scientists who did not measure their time sparingly to be of assistance. It has also benefited from the infrastructure some colleagues made available to me, and without which considerable delays and expenditure would have been unavoidable.

In this respect, I am particularly indebted to a number of people. Dr. J. Abramovici, Professor S. Orloff and Professor R. Fridrich reviewed my data critically and gave me access to their Institutes, enabling me to collect the clinical evidence required to complete this work. The latter benefited also from the efforts of Dr. K. Streule who supervised the cross-over study upon which the final conclusions have been based.

Dr. R. Senekowitsch and her staff were of invaluable help with the animal experimental data and was, together with Professor H. Kriegel, kind enough to enable me to complete this particular part.

Dr. H.L. Chia's laboratory data provided me with the possibility to widen the radiopharmaceutical aspects of the theme under discussion. I am also indebted to Dr. K.J. Panek for personal comments regarding the radiation dosimetry of  $^{111}\text{In}$ - labelled leukocytes.

Dr. J. Sepasgosarian distinguished herself in proof-reading the camera-ready text and I am grateful to Dr. P.H. Cox for transposing my original typescript into real English.

CONTENTS

Preface	v
Chapter 1: Introduction and Problem Formulation	1
Chapter 2: The Pathophysiology of Inflammatory Processes	7
Chapter 3: Radiopharmaceuticals for Imaging Inflammatory Processes	17
$^{67}\text{Ga}$ and $^{111}\text{In}$	18
$^{111}\text{In}$ -labelled leukocytes	29
Other labelled leukocytes	35
$^{99\text{m}}\text{Tc}$ -labelled compounds	37
Chapter 4: Scintigraphy and other Diagnostic Modalities: Literature Review	47
Chapter 5: Characteristics of the Alternative Radiopharmaceutical	67
Chapter 6: Animal Experiments	90
Chapter 7: Clinical Studies	117
Chapter 8: Summary and Conclusions	169
