Preface

The MoDELS conference series is the premier conference series for model-based software and systems engineering, and covers all aspects of modeling, from languages and methods to tools and applications. The 2011 edition of MoDELS took place in the beautiful port city of Wellington, the capital of New Zealand, during October 16–21, 2011. Like in the past years, the conference hosted several satellite events, i.e., eight workshops, two symposia and seven tutorials, on the first three days of the conference. The events took place in the stunning National Museum of New Zealand “Te Papa,” which allowed the participants to discover the vibrancy of the Maori culture in between the sessions.

Following tradition, the workshop and symposia organizers invited the authors of the selected best papers of their event to revise and extend their contributions for publication in these proceedings. In addition, this LNCS volume also includes for each workshop and symposium a summary of the event. The summaries and papers are presented in this book in the following order:

- Doctoral Symposium
- Educators’ Symposium
- Variability for You - VARY
- 5th International Workshop on Multi-Paradigm Modeling - MPM’11
- Experiences and Empirical Studies in Software Modelling - EESSMod 2011
- 6th International Workshop on Models@run.time
- Workshop on Model-Driven Engineering, Verification and Validation - MoDeVva 2011
- Comparing Modeling Approaches Workshop - CMA 2011
- Models and Evolution - ME 2011
- 4th International Workshop on Model-Based Architecting and Construction of Embedded Systems - ACES-MB 2011

I would like to thank everyone involved in making the satellite events such a success: Thomas Khne, the General Chair, who took care of all the local arrangements for the three days of the satellite events; the members of the Workshop Committee (Lionel Briand from University of Oslo - Norway, Robert France from University of Colorado - USA, Jeff Gray from University of Alabama - USA, and Hans Vangheluwe from University of Antwerp - Belgium), who worked diligently to ensure the highest quality for the workshops; and Arnor Solberg and Jürgen Dingel, the Workshop Co-chairs of MoDELS 2010, who generously shared their past experience with me.
